LABOR UNION DISAPPROVES "RED" SPEECH

Central Body Breaks with Local Unemployed Council After Meeting.

OFFICERS HELD BLAMELSS

Organization Takes Definite Stand Against Communism in Resolution.

Disapproval of the meeting for the unemployed held Sunday in Labor hall, at which C. B. Cowan of Cleveland, said to be a district organizer of the American Council of the Unemployed, openly advocated bolshevism and a communistic form of government, was made by the Marion Central Labor union at its semi-monthly meeting last night in Labor hall at Church and Main streets.

The organization in the future will close the hall for use of the unemployed group as the result of the nature of Sunday's meeting, according to a resolution voted last night.

The unemployed group was being aided by the labor organization until the meeting went "red." Ralph K. Ruppart, secretary, said today in a report on last night's meeting

Trustees and officers of the Marion Central Labor union were absolved of blame in connection with the meeting

The organization took a definite stand against communism in any form in another resolution passed last night.

To Form Labor Chest

In support of a resolution passed by the organization a month ago to withdraw any future support to Marion's Community Fund and to make plans instead for a Labor chest to operate for the relief of Marion labor groups, the body last night asked its representatives to withdraw their connection with local charity organizations Their request affects C. A. Bolin, its representative on the Community Fund· Ralph K. Ruppart, Red Cross representative, and Hayes Maynard, Welfare association representative.

Funds obtained from the charity ball held Feb. 12 will be dispensed to charity, it was decided last night. Fred Eaton was named as a member of the committee to represent the labor body in an investigation of applications for relief Jesse Warrick was chairman of the ball.

Favorable letters were received from senators and representatives from this district in response to requests for their support of labor bills now being presented in the legislature.

New delegates from the carmens, typographical, steel workers, sheet metal workers and boilermakers unions were seated last night

FEDERALS UNCOVER HUGE RUM SYNDICATE

1,400 Physicians, Druggists Suspected of Part in Liquor Prescription Ring.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb 26 Suspected of conspiracy in what federal authorities called the largest liquor prescription syndicate ever uncovered, 1,000 physicians and 400 druggists were under investigation today.

Directed by Horace J. Simmons special treasury agent, 100 agents made 14 simultaneous raids on 12 drug stores, an office building and a hotel yesterday and arrested more than 30 men. Signed prescriptions totalling 1,432 were seized in the apartment of Nathan Bernstein. Eleven prisoners were taken at the syndicate office in Union square. Twelve druggists and employes were arrested at their stores in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn. Morris Sweetwood, an ex-convict, was arrested at the Hotel Alba. Small quantities of liquor were confiscated at each place.

The complaints named 47 physicians as conspirators. Additional names of physicians and druggists will go to a federal grand jury. Simmons said the syndicate had transacted a business of $3,600,000 a year for the last six or eight years by diverting medical liquor through the illegal use of prescriptions.

By International News Service.

BOWLING GREEN, O., Feb. 26—After arraignment before Peace Justice Charles R. Nearing and receiving fines of $50 and costs each, 12 men in Wood county today agreed that the economic depression had its good points after all.

WOULD DIVIDE HOSPITAL COST

Officials of Five Counties Discuss Proposed Sanitarium.

MEET AT BELLEFONTAINE

Plan for Bond Issues Based on Tax Duplicate of Each Group.

Cost of the proposed district tuberculosis hospital would be prorated among the five counties interested in the project in proportion to their respective tax duplicates if tentative plans drawn up at a meeting in Bellefontaine yesterday are carried out

No definite action was taken at the meeting since two of the counties were not represented by a quorum of their commissioners

Marion, Hardin, Union, Logan and Delaware counties are interested in the project, which would enable each to assign its tubercular patients to the district hospital instead of sending them to other institutions throughout the state

County Spends $1,500

At the present time Marion county spends $1,500 annually in sending its patients to other institutions, an item that, according to county commissioners, might be reduced if they were sent to the district sanitarium.

Hardin county spends even more than that amount, its expenditures for care of tubercular patients totaling approximately $10,000 each year. Expenditures of the other three counties range from $2,000 upward

Should the commissioners of the five counties decide to go ahead with plans for the hospital, they must first submit the project to the voters in their respective counties in the form of a bond issue.

To Meet March 10

Further plans will be discussed at a meeting to be held at Marysville on March 10, at which each of the counties will be urged to send a full quota of commissioners in order that definite plans may be worked out.

County Commissioners O. W Kinnamon, O C. McCurdy and W M. King, City-County Health Commissioner N Sifritt, Dr. F. E Mahla, president of the Marion County Anti-Tuberculosis League, and Coroner Kenneth Smith, secretary of the league, represented the county at yesterday's meeting

THREE DAYS REMAIN FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Monday Will Be Absolute Deadline for Collection, Shelton Says.

With only three more days in which to pay, county taxpayers today were warned by County Treasurer Bert J. Shelton that Monday will be the absolute deadline for payment of December taxes without the 10 per cent penalty.

After Monday, all taxes will be subject to the 10 per cent penalty while personal taxes for the entire year will become due and payable at once as an additional penalty, in accordance with state law.

Collections today totaled $845,274.46 as compared to $995,114.32 a year ago. The charge this year, however, is more than $100,000 less than a year ago, making the probable total receipts for the December collection about $50,000 less than a year ago.

BILL TO STOP NEWS CENSORSHIP KILLED

Ohio House Committee Defeats Proposal of Butler County Representative.

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26 - The board of censors' authority to pass upon motion picture news reels was no longer threatened today by legislation to take that duty from the board.

The house temperance committee last night killed the bill of W. M. Goodwin, Democrat of Butler county, which would have abolished the censorship of the news reels.

Arguments presented by sponsors of the bill were that the censorship of news pictures was tantamount to the suppression of the right of freedom of the press.

Passage of a bill placing the girls' industrial school at Delaware under the Ohio department of public welfare was recommended by the house committee on benevolent and penal institutions. The bill was put in by W. W. Weir, Republican of Trumbull county.

A resolution to submit to the electors next November a proposal for amendment of the state constitution which would permit a majority of state supreme court to declare any law unconstitutional, was offered in the house by Representative Weir.

At present a majority of the court may affirm an appellate court decision holding a law unconstitutional but a vote of six of the seven members is required to declare unconstitutional a law held as constitutional by the appellate court.

As a result of this system the supreme court by the same vote declared a law permitting cities to furnish free water to schools constitutional in one district and unconstitutional in another.

Mayor Conducts 'Shelter' Probe in Poverty Disguise

By The Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb 26 - In order to get first hand information concerning the manner in which a shelter for homeless men is being conducted, Mayor Harry A Mackey has eaten and slept in the shelter disguised as one of the unemployed.

His makeup was so good he was not even recognized by guards assigned to the executive offices at city hall

Instead of a modishly attired chief magistrate, he emerged a shambling figure with unkept hair and a set of whiskers He wore a dotted blue shirt open at the neck, old corduroy coat, baggy trousers, squeaky shoes and a battered felt hat

He has played three one-night stands at the shelter during the last two weeks and found the food and sleeping accommodations "excellent"

The mayor made these disclosures during a conference with a committee which asked that the city appropriate $9,000,000 for the unemployed and that jobless men be paid $15 a week

Criticism of conditions at the shelter brought a sharp reply.

"Don't you tell me anything about the shelter," the mayor said "I go there constantly, mingle with the men and sleep there in disguise I spend a great deal of my salary there I take the men music and last week I took them 5,000 cigars and cigarettes"

The shelter is operated by the mayor's committee for unemployment relief.

BLOCK CANCELS WORLD OFFER

Withdraws Proposal To Buy Papers in Deference to Competitor.

EMPLOYES SEEK CONTROL

Judge Expected To Give Ruling Today on Breaking of Pulitzer Will.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb 26 Paul Block, publisher, announced today he had withdrawn his offer to purchase the New York World newspapers.

He made his announcement through Max D. Steuer, his attorney, who explained that Mr Block not only had decided not to purchase the newspapers for himself but also to withdraw the offer he made to buy them and allow the employes of the Worlds 45 days within which to purchase them without profit to himself

Surrogate James A. Foley will decide today whether the will of Joseph Pulitzer may be broken to allow the sale of the newspapers. The Scripps-Howard organization has made an offer to purchase at a figure estimated at $5,000,000

The withdrawal of Mr. Block means that the employes who have made a bid for the Worlds must arrange their financing without his assistance.

When Mr. Block made an offer for the purchase of the Worlds he was on the coast and knew nothing of what had here transpired since December between Mr. Roy Howard and the Messrs. Pulitzer. Mr. Steuer said. "Nor did he learn anything concerning it until last evening. He has now ascertained that Mr. Howard had concluded a contract with the trustees of the Pulitzer estate and he does not want to be put in the position of having interfered for the purpose of breaking up an existing contract.

Harry Miller and Carl Phipps of the Portsmouth Street Railway Co., acted as spokesmen for small cities which say their street car service will be imperiled if the Yoder bill becomes a law.

Hoover Sees Cash Bonus Program as Detriment to Public Interests.

PICTURES TROUBLE AHEAD

Backers of Measure Prepared Prompt Move To Override Veto.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 26 - President Hoover today vetoed the veterans' loan bill.

In a message to the house, he called the legislation "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of all the people"

Overwhelmingly approved by the house and senate, the bill would increase the amount a veteran could borrow on his bonus certificate from 22½ to 50 per cent of the face value. Its congressional proponents stood ready to make a prompt effort to override the veto.

The President said the legislation imposes a potential cash outlay of $1,700,000,000, if all veterans apply for loans, less some $330,000,000 already loaned He repeated Veterans Administrator Hines' estimate a billion dollars would be required to administer the bill

Borrowing Necessary

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand," he declared, "the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose a further taxation

"The sole appeal made for the reopening of the bonus act is the claim that funds from the national treasury should be provided to veterans in distress as the result of the drouth and business depression

"There are veterans unemployed and in need today in common with many others of our people. These, like the others, are being provided the basic necessities of life by the devoted committees in those parts of the country affected by the depression or drouth

"The government and many employers are giving preference to veterans in employment Their welfare is and should be a matter of concern to our people.

"Inquiry indicates that such care is being given throughout the country, and it also indicates that the number of veterans in need of such relief is a minor percentage of the whole"

Seek Dependents Injured

The President also said that to allow veterans to borrow to within 50 per cent would work a hardship on the wives and dependents of veterans who will have used the value of their certificate and thereby deprived of necessary insurance

"The need of our people today is a decrease in the burden of taxes and unemployment, yet they (who include the veterans) are being steadily forced toward higher tax levels and lessened employment by such acts as this," he said.

Terming the legislation of grave import itself, the President said "of much graver importance is the whole tendency to open the federal treasury to a thousand purposes, many admirable in their intentions but in which the proponents fail or do not care to see that such bestowings, many of

DOES YOUR HEART EVER PALPITATE?

In many cases; palpitation is caused by the pressure of a gas-distended stomach upon the heart, the gas being generated by the action of excess acid on the food in the stomach. This acidity interrupts digestion, causes food to ferment and attacks the delicate stomach lining, paving the way for gastritis and even dangerous stomach ulcers. One safe way to stop the trouble and avoid possible serious consequences is to neutralize this excess acid. To do this quickly, safely and surely, take a little "Bisurated" Magnesia after meals or whenever pain is felt "Bisurated" Magnesia instantly stops the painful fermentation, dispels the gas and relieves dangerous pressure on the heart. You feel better right away, and in a few minutes you feel fine. Get a trial package—either powder or handy tablets—at Henney & Cooper or the nearest drug store, and forget all about the trouble your acid-filled stomach used to make.—Adv.

PROSPECT GIRLS, CALEDONIA BOYS WIN

WALDO LOSES 25-16; PLEASANT LOSES IN CLOSE BATTLE 23-21

Vaughan, Biggerstaff, Kyle Star in Closely Contested Girls' Game.

CALEDONIA boys in the East half of the Marion county basketball league cinched second place in the division last night, handing Waldo a convincing beating by a 24 to 16 count. Prospect girls in the West half of the county were winners over Pleasant township in a game to decide the championship of the West half girls division. The final score of the girls game was 23 to 21.

Caledonia boys, by defeating Waldo won the right to compete in the county play-off Friday night in The Star auditorium for the runner-up post of the county. Pleasant, winner in the West half boys' league will oppose Caledonia Friday. Morral and Kirkpatrick, winners of their respective divisions will clash Friday night to decide the championship of the county. The third game of the Friday program will bring together the two third place teams of the county, Waldo and Prospect.

Caledonia Wins

Caledonia boys had little difficulty in overcoming the threat of Waldo. The winners opened the game with a flashy attack that carried them ahead of Waldo by a substantial margin before the first period was over. Wait, brilliant center was playing a good game for the Caledonia outfit until four personal fouls put him on the bench early in the second period. Even without him in the lineup Caledonia had no difficulty winning.

Pleasant and Prospect girls put on the feature battle of the evening with Prospect finally emerging on the long end of the 23 to 21 count.

Not more than a few points separated the two contenders at any time although Pleasant managed to retain the lead most of the time. The score at the half was 15-13 for Pleasant.

Prospect Rallies

Prospect put on a rally in the final period that took the lead away from Pleasant and won the game. Pleasant battled hard to regain the lead late in the game but was unable to get around the superior guarding of the Prospect outfit.

Biggerstaff and Kyle of Prospect and Vaughan of Pleasant turned in snappy performances. Both teams demonstrated a well-coached and clever attack.

Y-Indus to Play Cleveland Industrial Champs Saturday

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

ALTHOUGH on several occasions in the past Marion boxing fans have declined to rally very heartily to the support of leather slinging, Frankie Dean of Columbus has announced his intention of offering local fans another chance to start a revival of the cauliflower industry. Dean today announced plans for bi-weekly boxing shows to be staged at the Shovel gym.

Boxing in Marion, as everywhere else has been on a decided decline in the last several years. Public patronage as a result has dropped off to such an extent that promoters who have attempted to stage shows have been forced to give it up as a bad job.

The return of boxing to Marion Monday night will be watched with interest. It may be that Marion is ready to support boxing here if the quality of bouts offered are any inducement to those interested in the "beak-busting" game.

Frankie Dean who is promoting the fight card to be offered here Monday has outlined some ambitious plans for boxing in Marion. Dean has announced his intention of removing his Queensbury Athletic club from Columbus to Marion in the near future, if patronage at the first two or three boxing shows here is sufficient to evince any widespread local interest. Dean has recently taken under his wing Ray Schneider, now fighting under the name of Ray McCarty. He is anxious to train other youngsters in Marion who show ability with the padded mitts.

Interest in the majority of of sports programs in Marion is apparently increasing. There has been but a single sport pro baseball here in the past year that has not showed an increase in box office receipts. It must be admitted though that for the most part the biggest increases have come to those sports in which amateur athletes only are taking part.

Wrestling is one sport of the professional variety that has shown a gain in interest here. The Break 'Em Off club has steadily gained in drawing power despite the fact that it has a higher admission price than most other sports. The reason has been largely the quality of bouts put on by the promoters. Scarcely any of them are not fast and interesting.

Should the promoters of the fight game here put on boxing shows that bring together boys who are really in the ring to fight and not to put on a scene that would be more in keeping with a park bench on a moonlight night there is reason to believe the fans would click the turnstiles rapidly enough to make the game pay here. However, the Marion public has been duped quite consistently in the past with boxing shows. They demand to to be shown and it may take some time to convince them that the fighters are entering the ring with the intention of putting up a scrap.

Knockouts and battered faces are what the local public want. If they get these boxing will be reestablished in Marion. If they get anything other than this, one thing and one thing only will be forthcoming—boos and hisses in profuse quantities. There will be no clinking of shekels in the box office cash drawer.

Games Tonight Will Settle Northwest Race

By United Press.

DEFIANCE, O., Feb. 26—Championship of the Northwest basketball conference will be decided here tonight when Defiance college's quintet plays Bowling Green college. The two teams are tied for leadership of the league with five victories and two defeats apiece.

The advantage of the home floor gave Defiance a narrow edge for the titular contest. Bowling Green won over Defiance earlier in the season, 38 to 28.

At the same time Findlay college and Bluffton college will battle at Bluffton. A victory for Findlay would put the orange team in a tie for second place. Should Bluffton win, the two teams would be tied for third place.

GAME PROMISES TO RIVAL TOUGH BATTLE OF LAST WEEK-END

Forest City Team Composed of Former High School Cage Stars.

FOR the second Saturday night in a row the Shovel Y-Indus basketball team, Marion's outstanding cage entry, will tackle a team that rates among the best in the state. The Cleveland Gear and Forging Co. team, champions of the Cleveland Class B Industrial League, will appear here Saturday night on the Shovel court.

The very fact that the Machinists were able to crash through for a championship in the Forest City class B circuit last year is sufficient recommendation for any team. The fact that they are continuing to "go places" in the race there this season is assurance they are not deteriorating very rapidly.

The Cleveland team will bring some clever court performers here Saturday, players that will tax the ability of the locals to the limit. The majority of the opposition are former high school stars of former years.

Among the leading players of the Cleveland team are Ralph McElroy, DC George Delp, Johnnie Mangold, Frank Kirk and Edward Lahm.

McElroy is rated as one of the best forwards in Cleveland Industrial basketball. He is a former star of John Adams high school. Delp, another high school satellite plays forward and engineers the majority of the Clevelanders' plays. He is an unusually clever floor worker. Mangold coverts at guard, pairing with Kirk. Both are good men.

The game promises to rival the brilliant contest played on the Shovel court last Saturday when the Y-Indus lost a close battle to the Cincinnati Wildcats 38 to 37. The locals are anxious to win and will have their full strength available for the game.

The LaRue Athletics and Waldo Sunday school teams will clash in a preliminary game to the Y-Indus-Cleveland battle starting at 7:30. The feature game is called for 8:15.

Reformed Loses Two in Shovel Gym Program

In a triple program at the Steam Shovel gym last night the Marion First Reformed team was beaten by the Green Camp Baptists 22 to 18, Harding Vocationals defeated Meeker High school 29 to 20 and First Reformed girls lost to Mt. Victory 21 to 12.

The two boys' games were close and fairly hard fought but the Marion girls' team could not match the pace of the Mt. Victory lassies and was badly beaten.

FIRST CASUALTY

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 26—A severe case of arthritis will keep Harry Heilmann, heaviest slugger of the Cincinnati Reds, from using his throwing hand for another month, President Henry Weil has announced.

Morrow County Champions

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 26 — Above is pictured the Mt. Gilead high school girls' basketball team which finished the season with the loss of only one game. The majority of games were won by large scores. Wins were registered over Johnsville, Sparta, Edison, Cardington, LaRue, Marengo, Forest, Crestline, and Ashley. The one contest they lost was to Ashley early in the season. Several of the teams were played twice.

By finishing the season without a loss to another county team the girls captured Mt. Gilead's fourth straight championship and the eighth in the ten years since 1923 when the first tournament was held.

Risko Battered in Closing Rounds by Mickey Walker

By The Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 26—They may have to move over later, if not this year to make room for Mickey Walker in the scramble for the world's heavyweight championship.

Less than six pounds over the limit for the middleweight class, in which he holds the world's title, Walker packed enough stamina and wallop in his 165½ pounds last night to hand a convincing pasting to 194-pound Johnny Risko of Cleveland, somewhat battered reminder of the one-time spoiler of heavyweight ambitions.

WALKER

Walker won the unanimous verdict of three judges after ten slashing, bruising rounds. Mickey was held to close to even terms for the first eight rounds, due to Johnny's bull like charges and aggressive hammering," but Walker won the last two rounds by a wide margin. Risko was groggy in the ninth and tenth under Walker's vicious left hooks and right crosses to the chin.

Walker overcame big handicaps in weight and reach to demonstrate his ability to mix successfully in bigger company. He has not defended the middleweight crown in over a year and apparently intends to leave it on the shelf in favor of battles with heavyweights.

RISKO

Before Walker fought the main go last night, Max Schmeling, the German who was bequeathed the heavyweight title by boxing authorities, and his American challenger, young Stribling, appeared in exhibitions. The winner of the Schmeling, Stribling bout in June, is slated to defend the title against Primo Carnera.

Carnera was a spectator last night and is booked to meet Jimmy Maloney of Boston here on March 5.

The box office checkup showed approximately 20,000 cash customers and a gross gate receipts of $38,000.

TWO WORLD RECORDS HUNG UP AT INDOOR MEET IN NEW YORK

Alabama Trackster Clips 70-Yard High Hurdle Mark; Penn Takes Relay.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb 26—Two new world records were on the books, eight of the nation's best wore their first national A. A. U. championship medals while six others were in possession of their second successive title today as the result of indoor track and field championship held in Madison Square Garden last night.

Percy Beard, from Alabama Poly, clipped one-fifth of a second off the existing world's record for the 70-yard high hurdles. To beat Lee Sentman of University of Illinois, co-holder of the record in :08 5-10. The University of Pennsylvania medley relay team, with the diminutive Carl Coan running the anchor lap, slashed 5 1-5 seconds off the eight year old record in the one and seven-eighths medley relay time to defeat Bates college in 7 30 2-10. The old record was hung up by a quartet from the Illinois Athletic club.

Conger Wins Too

The two new world records were made in a program that saw Ray Conger take the 1,000 yard championship; Leo Lermond give 'em a flash of his old time speed to win the two-mile title and Fred Sturdy leap 13 feet, 11 inches to retain his pole vault crown.

Phil Edward and Hans Assert, of New York City, were the only champions to repeat on the track. Edwards conquered Sera Martin, world's 800 metre champion from France, to keep his 600-yard title while Assert led a large pack over the two-mile steeplechase.

The 1930 champions swept through the field events. Harold Osborn repeated in the standing high jump. Anton Burg turned back Osborn and a classy field of youngsters in the running high jump, William Werner took the standing broad jump.

Can Beats Lewis

Five times little Bill Carr of the University of Pennsylvania was forced to travel the 300 yards before gaining the decision over John Lewis, the chunky Negro champion from Detroit city college. The pair ran twice to qualify for the finals and then fought through the last lap of the deciding race to a dead heat. In the run-off, Carr nipped the titleholder at the tape.

The Illinois athletic club retained its team championship.

COLLEGE SLUGGER TO FIGHT HERE MONDAY

Jude Strahl of Butler University Signed To Oppose "Babe" Beck.

Babe Beck, clouting light heavyweight boxer, of Columbus, and Jude Strahl, of Indianapolis, have been assigned main bout chores in the opening boxing carnival of Marion, next Monday evening, in Steam Shovel hall.

These lads have been signed by Matchmaker Frankie Dean to trade wallops over a stretch of 10 rounds, with a judges' verdict deciding the issue.

In securing this pair to headline the program, Dean made a ten stroke in favor of Marion fight fans.

Beck is the hard-slugging ringster who has developed quickly into one of the finest light heavyweights in Ohio's capital city.

Stahl is an exceptional type of battler. He adopted boxing as his method of earning his way through Butler University in Indianapolis, several years ago. He is now in his junior year at the Hoosier school, and plans to continue his drive towards ring leadership after completion of his college course.

This bout will be supplemented by four other melees, each listed for six stanzas.

Tickets for the show were placed on sale late Wednesday evening at the Market & Lewis Cigar Store.

Ringside seats are selling for fifty and seventy-five cents, $1.00 and $1.50.

Exclusively Here, $10.00

HERE you see Hats in the full latitude of style variety that the Spring edicts have developed. The dressy Homburg; the dashing snap-brim; the collegy tapered telescope; the jaunty crusher and dapper derby. And what a wide gradation of color tones our collection offers you in the soft Hats...new soft shades that you've never seen before in men's headwear. All the new pastel tones!

BULLS SHOVE PRICES UPWARD

Market Moves Forward Steadily After Slight Hesitation at Opening.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Having shaken off a load of impending liquidation, the stock market moved forward afresh today.

U. S. Steel common, which bulls had been holding in reserve of late, was suddenly jacked up to the best levels of the new year, but bullish interest again concentrated on the electric power issues. Some of the gains in electrical and railway equipments and miscellaneous manufacturing issues made good headway, while most of the rails, oils, motors, coppers and merchandising issues moved back. A few soft spots were uncovered.

The market still seemed to be impressed primarily by its own momentum, since little in the way of forward stimulus was provided by the day's news. With the expected technical reaction of the previous session out of the way, however, traders had an opportunity to consider the mildly cheerful mid-week business statistics which appeared yesterday, particularly the relatively favorable weekly report of electric power production and the steady if gradual improvement in steel making.

Some brokerage houses have taken a precautionary attitude, in view of the almost steady advance of the past three weeks. During this period the list has had only two substantial setbacks. Nevertheless speculative sentiment in Wall street remains preponderantly bullish, acknowledging that the country's recovery has run well ahead of the pickup in business, but pointing out that troublesome speculation are out of the way and liquidated, and stock now for sale can be disposed of leisurely, so there is little in sight at the moment to check the advance.

Call money continued a little firmer, with little available under the official rate of 1½ per cent.

APPROVES MEYER

Senate Confirms Federal Reserve Board Appointment After Delay

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 — Eugene Meyer was free today to attend to the job he has held down for the past five months, without keeping an eye on the senate.

The senators yesterday confirmed by a 72 to 11 vote, President Hoover's recess appointment of Meyer as governor of the federal reserve board.

The session of long postponement of action on his name was caused chiefly by Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa. He had the nomination sent back to committee after it was reported with approval about two months ago. This was for an investigation of charges by Representative McFadden, Republican of Pennsylvania, that Meyer's appointment came through Wall street influence.

RAIN FORECAST CAUSES SLUMP

Grains Average Lower as Moisture Is Predicted for Wheat Belt.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26—Influenced by forecasts of rain or snow in parts of the spring wheat belt grains averaged lower early today. There were also reports that Australia was dumping wheat on European markets at lower prices. Opening at ¼ cent off to ¼ up, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started unchanged to ⅜ higher, and subsequently declined.

Increased pressure of wheat in Europe was ascribed largely to Australian government promises of a bonus on exports. European importers were also anticipating liberal arrivals hereafter from Argentina and Australia, notwithstanding that Argentine growers appeared to be unwilling sellers. Advices indicated better weather in France, with rural offerings augmented. American government-sponsored agencies were again reported offering export wheat.

Assertions that all calculations in regard to feed requirements have been swept into the discard by the mild weather tended to weaken corn. Some Illinois points reported that despite a crop not more than 60 per cent of average, shipments of 21 per cent more corn had been handled than a year ago. Illinois corn supplies on farms were estimated as equalling the volume at May 15 in an average season. Oats followed wheat and corn.

Provisions reflected upturns in hog values.

The $5,000 damage suit brought by Edgar F. Biersdorfer of Marion against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. yesterday was taken from the Marion county common pleas court docket and removed to the United States district court at Toledo.

The suit was filed on Jan. 28 and is based on a collision between the plaintiff's Jordan sedan and a Pennsylvania train on the West Center street crossing last June 1. Personal injuries and damages to the machine are alleged by the plaintiff, who is represented by the law firm of Patton & Wiedemann.

Judgment of municipal court which held that the plaintiff-in-error must pay $225 to the defendant-in-error was upheld yesterday in common pleas court in the case of William Schmelzer, plaintiff in error and others against W. M. Schaaf and others, defendants in error.

The defendant-in-error sued for $450, the alleged difference due from an exchange of real estate between the two parties, but municipal court, where the case first was heard, gave a judgment of half that amount.

Concert Group Pushes 1932 Eisteddfod Plans

L. Albrecht Named Manager of Song Festival To Be Held Here Next Feb. 22: Association May Invite College Groups To Participate.

will be made by the Concert association to e 1932 Western Ohio
which will be held here
22, the biggest singing
this district in years, it nced today by Harry L who has been selected as of the contest.
steddfod never has been
this city, Albrecht said, today and consequently the event will be new in this district.

City Picked at Lima

Marion was selected as the 1932 meeting place at the 1931 meeting held Monday at Lima, at which local singers took the biggest event on the program, the mixed chorus, which carried with it a $200 prize.

The local musical organizations the Canto club and the Lecture-Recital club, were responsible for winning the event for Marion. The two clubs make up the Marion Concert association, which will sponsor the eisteddfod.

Every singing organization within a 75-mile radius of Marion will be extended a personal invitation to compete, Albrecht said, although singers from beyond that radius will be welcomed.

College choruses probably will be urged to take part. These organizations, which usually are at the peak of their singing ability in mid-winter, would provide one of the features of the 1932 meeting, Albrecht believes.

Although the committee in charge has not definitely decided upon extending invitations to colleges, it is probable that such a move will be made. Colleges in the district would be invited to enter choirs, men's glee clubs, women's glee clubs and mixed choruses, he said.

Several in Area

Such an invitation likely would bring numerous collegiate singers here. Leading colleges which are in the 75-mile radius include Ohio State university, Capital university, Wittenberg college, Ohio Wesleyan university, Ohio Northern university, Heidelberg college, Wooster college, Denison university, Ashland college and others.

The committee met yesterday to make preliminary plans for the meeting, although it is a year hence. Plans, however, will be pushed immediately in an effort to stimulate interest in the event, according to Albrecht.

W. E. Orcutt is president of the Canto club and Mrs. T. R. Evans is president of the Lecture-Recital club, which are backing the 1932 eisteddfod.

Marion was selected Monday after a letter of invitation from Mayor L. Don Jones had been read.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

VIRGINIA CHERRILL STARS AT MARION

A kiss-registering machine plays a prominent part in "Girls Demand Excitement," a comedy on college life, which opened yesterday at the Marion and which will be shown again today.

This electrical recording instrument is supposed to register the emotional reactions to a kiss and is used in the picture as part of the laboratory apparatus in a psychology class.

The picture has to do with the attempts of the male element at a small college to rid themselves of co-eds by having the college abandon coeducations. However, John Wayne, leader of the boys, and Virginia Cherrill, the girls' leader, develop a romance and things begin to happen.

Wayne is the youth who starred in "The Big Trail," seen here a month ago, while Miss Cherrill is Charlie Chaplin's lead in his new picture, "City Lights." Other prominent members of the cast are Helen Jerome Eddy Eddie Nugent, William Janney, Marion Byron and Martha Sleeper Charlie Chase is seen in a comedy, "The Thundering Tenor." Another instalment of the W. J. Burns murder series and a Fox News complete the bill.

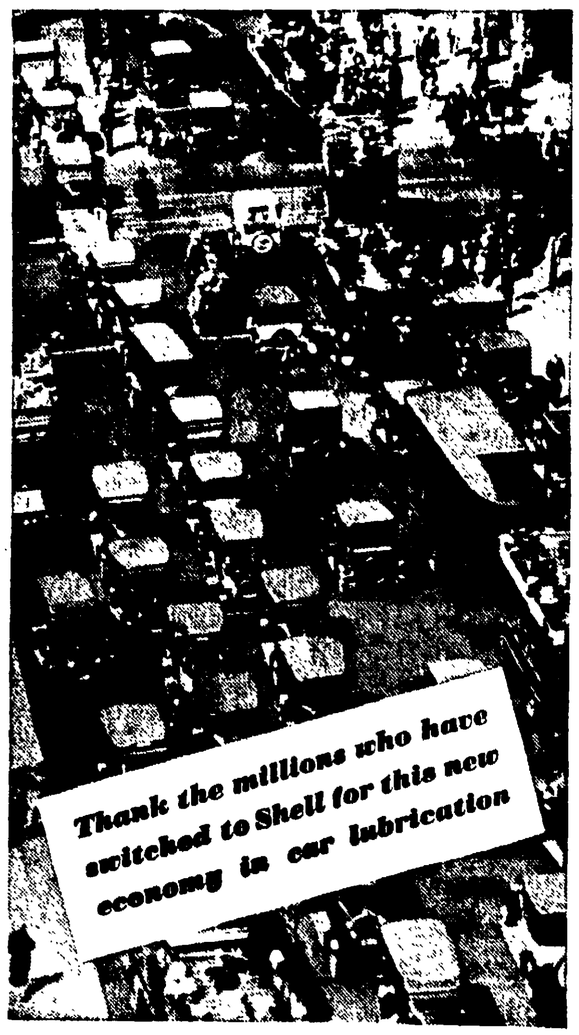
Shell's reduced motor oil price

first step in broad economy program for motorists



SHELL MOTOR OIL, the highest quality lubricant any car can use, has been reduced from 30 cents to 25 cents per quart. Increased volume and lower refining costs have made possible this price reduction.

This is the first step in a new program of vital interest to every motorist. In the next few weeks Shell will make available to you other important economies affecting the cost of operating your car.

Shell Motor Oil, now only 25 cents per quart, is premium grade oil. It is made from the choicest crudes . . . Refined by the most modern methods . . .

From it you get the same ease in starting and smooth performance, the same protection against repair bills as from the most costly oils.

Shell Motor Oil has a low "pour point" for freezing weather, and high heat resistance for torrid summers. Under the toughest jobs, it can't break down or lose its penetrating power. It forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as the most expensive oils—and it forms no hard carbon at all.

Pay more than 25 cents per quart for oil if you wish, pay less if you want to take the chance. But the advice of Shell engineers who have tested every known brand of oil is this:

"Keep your car filled with the proper grade of Shell Motor Oil. Change it at the periods specified by the car manufacturer. You'll get all the fine engine-performance your car was built to give, at lowest possible cost, if you observe this simple care."

No Hard Carbon in Shell Motor Oil

The hard, flinty carbon left after burning a sample of an expensive motor oil. The amount of carbon formed was over 3 times that created by burning the same amount of Shell Motor Oil

The carbon left after burning Shell Motor Oil. It is soft—will not cake like cement on your cylinder walls like the hard carbon formed by the oil at the top. And there is only 1/5 as much of it

Mayor Thompson Renominated.

Through the operation of one of the most pernicious curses ever inflicted upon the people of the United States under the guise and in the name of reform, William Hale Thompson was nominated to succeed himself as mayor of Chicago In the absence of concerted support of his Democratic opponent, Anton J. Cermak, by the decent citizenship, for which the past offers little justification for hope, he will probably be elected for a fourth time as the executive of the land's second city.

Under the administrations of Mayor Thompson Chicago has acquired a worldwide reputation for killings and other forms of violence against the person, for bombings, for racketeering and hoodlumism. Whether the city deserves the reputation it holds more than some others is not material. Chicago has it.

The present mayor is not the majority choice of the party to which his administrations has brought discredit, but rather the choice of a minority. He had the solid vote of the element which has consistently given him support and that of many Democrats of the same class who posed as Republicans. Opposition to him was divided. In addition to the candidacy of his most formidable opponent, Judge John H. Lyle, there were the candidacies of the Deneen entry, Arthur F. Albert, and George K. Schmidt. The division of the opposition, gave the mayor a plurality, but not a majority. He received but 46.62 per cent. of the vote.

In the face of his record, which has been made so well known to newspaper readers as to render its outlining unnecessary, and in view of the fact that Chicago's planned world exposition is but two years away, what chance would the present mayor have had for renomination by an old-time party convention in which nominations were made by majorities? It must be conceded that chance for success on his part would have been exceedingly slim.

Thus the Thompson nomination may be laid at the door of the primary, which has made possible the selection for office of almost innumerable candidates of little, or no, merit over candidates of worth who refused to stoop to the petty demagoguery by which political favor is so frequently attained under the primary system.

It would be hard to offer a better example of the primary as a prostitutor of politics than that offered by the primary of last Tuesday in Chicago.

Drivers' Responsibility Bill Killed.

The drivers' safety responsibility bill, sponsored by the Ohio State Automobile association, this week suffered the same fate as the compulsory drivers' license bill, sponsored by the same organization, last week. It was killed by the insurance committee of the house of representatives, which indefinitely postponed action on the bill when no proponents appeared at the meeting for the first consideration of the proposed measure.

The fate of the drivers' license bill is easily understood There is a somewhat general feeling in this state that a drivers' license bill is not so much framed for increasing the safety of highway travel as for the purpose of raising revenue and, incidentally, for the creation of more jobs for "the faithful" of minor influence Too often examinations given applicants for drivers licenses are cursory, and at the best they establish little to prove the fitness of the applicant to drive.

The action of the committee on the safety responsibility bill is not so easily understood. Unless there is some legislative rule governing such cases, it is hard to believe that a bill would be killed for no other reason than that no proponents appeared in support of it. A bill might be considered so good by its sponsors as to cause them to believe that support of it before the committee to which it would go unnecessary. If there is a rule or a practice which results in the killing in committee of all bills for which proponents do not appear, such a rule or practice, it seems to us, would work to the deliberate encouraging of lobbyists and lobbying

The bill provided that any motorist having an accident for which he was unable to pay damages in excess of $100, should take out some type of insurance or post a satisfactory security to satisfy the commissioner of motor vehicles of his ability to pay damages in future accidents

It can be understood that the recommendation of such a bill as the foregoing might be taken as ground for the charge that it was framed in the interest of the insurance companies. It might be charged that the bill was aimed only at the motorist of humble means However, regardless of whatever charges might have resulted from a favorable recommendation by the committee, it can not be gainsaid that there should be some way in which compensation could be secured for damage done by a motorist financially irresponsible.

The clerk of the lower house of congress has figured out that the two bodies of the legislative branch of the government when in session cost the country $1,400 an hour. The Poor Heathen.

Child marriage is a practice that has afforded many a horror for American uplift groups. They have been prone to plead that this great country in which marriage is permitted only after the principals have reached a state of advanced mental and physical development, use its influence to bring an end to child marriages in other lands

So, a few days ago, Dame Rachel Crowdy, British sociologist, probably supposed she had hit upon something good when she told an audience that seven states in this country permit girls to marry at the age of twelve, in shocking contrast with India, Turkey and Japan, which demand a minimum age of sixteen. It was a body blow to America's often over-developed capacity for oral indignation against practices not common with its people.

But, it was from a group of Americans, the children's bureau in Washington, that Dame Crowdy subsequently received the information that she was in error Not seven states, but eleven states in the United States permit twelve year-old girls to marry, it seems They are Louisiana and Virginia, where the age is fixed by statute, Florida, Maine, Rhode Island, Tennessee, where age is fixed by judicial decision under common law, and Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi and New Jersey, where it is presumed the common law applies Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York left the choice classification of child-marriage states only a few years back

If further evidence of the wisdom of keeping one's own backyard clean preparatory to crusading for a neighborhood clean-up be desirable, the Russell Sage foundation's study of child marriage in 1925, which estimated 343,000 women and girls then living in the United States began their married life as child brides may be produced. The foundation's estimates usually are pretty accurate

Even though we may have "turned the corner" these figures show that we still have a long way to go to get back to normal.

"BAH! COLOR BLINDSKY."

Editorial Opinion.

A TRICKY BUSINESS.

Officials of the Italian embassy at Washington are represented as showing no interest in local protests against a remark derogatory to Il Duce attributed to Mr. John Lord O'Brian, assistant to the attorney general. If so, it is an attitude very understandable in the officials of the Italian embassy. The now famous history of the Butler speech is one which they can scarcely wish to see repeated. However improper General Butler's speech may have been, and no one has arisen to defend it, the fact remains that the chief result of the diplomatic intervention in this case was to spread broadcast over the nation an allegation which otherwise would have remained buried in almost total obscurity. For days the head of the Italian government held the headlines in the unenviable character of a hit-and-run driver, a ruthlessly Napoleonic sort of person with contempt for the life of a child.

No evidence to support this unlovely picture has been forthcoming, and there have been the customary official denials. Unhappily, however, official denials are seldom convincing in themselves, while the nature of the situation makes it quite impossible for Mussolini or his diplomats to produce that positive disproof of the story which doubtless is available and which a private citizen similarly attacked could produce without embarrassment. The net result has probably been to damage Il Duce very seriously in the eyes of millions of Americans who would never have heard of the Vandebilt-Butler tale save for the ambassador's intervention. This can hardly have been the ambassador's intention, and it just goes to show what a tricky thing it is to try to "control" publicity.

The contemporary scene is a strange one in many ways, but few things in it are stranger than the fact that an age which believes itself to be governed by publicity should be so incapable of understanding the force. People insist upon endowing it with magical properties, and consequently make strange mistakes, seldom realizing that the whole question of publicity is really simply one of ordinary common sense.—New York Herald Tribune.

A TEST OF SENATE SINCERITY.

The contest projected by the Democrats against the reseating of Tom Schall, offers a genuine test of the sincerity of the senate's protestations that members must come through its portals with clean feet, if not with clean hands.

The postal laws are specific as to what sort of mail matter may be franked. When Tom Schall franked by wholesale letters that fell a mile outside the limits of the franking privilege, he flagrantly flouted a statute which he, as a senator, had taken an oath to uphold and of which, as a member of the postal committee, he was surely aware.

When newly-elected members ignore laws, to get their feet on the senate's doorstep, that body is not at all hesitant about slamming the door in their faces. The country will soon have opportunity to learn whether the same meticulous scrutiny is applicable to incumbents ignoring laws so that they may stay in the senate. Minneapolis Journal.

An Old 1849 Bill of Sale.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Mr R. Shoop, of Sabina, Ohio, has a sale bill which Clarence Ogden has preserved among the effects of a relative, J. L. Moss, who was removing to the "Oregon Territory," in 1849, and which throws interesting sidelights on the business of farming at that time. Moss lived in Woodford county, Kentucky, it should be explained, but farming methods were at that time no doubt much the same here as in the Blue Grass state.

He was to sell all his ox teams but two—the teams he had selected to draw his wagons over the long journey. Among the articles mentioned was a plow with a wooden mouldboard. He offered also 1,500 acres of fence rails, eighty-five super troughs for sugar, made of white ash, a sixty-gallon soup kettle and fifty gallons of soft soap.

He had ten gallons of maple syrup and thirty pounds of mutton tallow to sell. It was the day when much manufacturing was done on the farm, and two spinning wheels and a loom were included. This farmer did something also in cooperage, for included were also 300 poles, 100 split hoops and 100 finished barrels. A half interest in a tanyard was also included, and ten wooden pitchforks. A thirty-two-caliber rifle, "made by Ben Miller" bullet moulds and powder horn, and forty gallons of sorghum molasses were itemized.

And now we come to another home industry that was perfectly legal then. He offered a forty-gallon copper still, a thirty-two-gallon barrel of whisky, seven years old, and twenty gallons of apple brandy. The sale of that lot if it could be made now would finance his long journey. He would part with his fox hunting pack, six head of fox hounds, "all but one with soft mouths."

The enumeration of the property for sale concluded with his list of six slaves.

Addition Only Needed.

Don't Neglect Dandruff.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

One of the most common disorders of the scalp is the familiar trouble universally called dandruff.

A great deal has been written about this disturbance and its causes. Some authorities believe it is due to an infection. They think it is spread from one individual to another by hats, combs and brushes.

Others believe it is due to negligence in the care of the scalp. There is no doubt that neglect plays a part in the continuance of this disease.

Most afflicted persons neglect dandruff and make no effort to rid themselves of it. This is unfortunate because it is not pleasant to see a coat collar covered with its scales.

It is probable that a mild dandruff may be a normal condition If you have slight dry scaling from the scalp, you need not be alarmed. But if there persists a greasy, scaly condition of the scalp, we are dealing with something that requires attention.

An excellent way to control dandruff is by soaking the scalp overnight in olive oil, sweet oil, mineral or almond oil. In the morning, wash the scalp with an abundance of very warm water and soap.

If the scalp is an oily one, use green soap. For a dry scalp, castile soap is preferable. The hair must be thoroughly dried after the washing and then it is well to rub into the scalp some sulphur cream. This may be repeated at least twice a week until the dandruff has disappeared.

Unfortunately dandruff is such a trivial thing that most persons neglect it entirely. When it gets better, there is little attempt to prevent its recurrence.

Greater care in the hygiene of combs and brushes is only decent. It may help to prevent this condition. Have your own brush and comb and never use those used by others, it is also important for you to keep your own brushes and comb clean and not to loan them to others.

Proper care of the hair is very important. There is nothing more appealing than a head of good hair. To look after the scalp is an important step in preserving it.

Abounding health is another consideration. A diet which includes the mineral carrying vegetables will help to make the hair strong.

Fresnel Paved Way.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Fresnel is one of those scientists whose larger recognition waits upon the appreciation of later scientists Not that he was by any means neglected during his lifetime. Indeed, quite the contrary is the case But within recent years physicists have been turning the full flow of their attention upon the subject of light. The theory of relativity relies heavily upon some of the most important discoveries of Fresnel regarding the passage of light rays through various substances The whole subject of polarized light rests in no small measure upon the sound and brilliant researches of Fresnel.

This interesting half-tragic figure, Augustin Jean Fresnel, was born at Broglie, in Normandy, May 10, 17[illegible]. Far from being an infant prodigy, he developed very slowly, and although receiving along with his brothers, instructions from both father and mother, he could scarcely read at the age of eight. After studying for three years at the Ecole Centrale of Caenn, this delicate lad entered the famous Ecole Polytechnique One of the great mathematicians of the day Legendre, propounded a difficult mathematical problem; and Fresnel, whose genius had been so slow in maturing, solved the problem so satisfactorily as to win the public commendation of Legendre himself

It seemed for a time as if Fresnel were going to be sidetracked by being diverted from mathematics and physics to engineering.

After a course of study at the famous French engineering school, the Ecole des Ponts et Chausees, he received appointment as engineer successively in the departments of La Vendee, Drome and Ille-et-Villaire. For more than eight years he devoted himself to dull and unin spiring tasks as an engineer, which afforded little opportunity for the display of his brilliant talents Fresnel's sympathies lay with the Bourbons, and he served with the Royalists which unsuccessfully resisted the return of Napoleon in 1815. He suffered many indignities for his espousal of the Royalist cause; but after the Bourbon restoration he obtained a post as engineer in Paris.

From this time until his untimely death from consumption in 1827, Fresnel published many important memoirs and won considerable fame. He won the French academy prize in 1819, was unanimously elected to that body in 1823; two years later was elected an associate of the Royal Society of London, and on his death bed was awarded by it the Rumford medal.

Fresnel shares with Thomas Young the distinction of laying the foundations for the wave theory of light, which displaced Newton's corpuscular theory. He verified the undulatory theory by use of the phenomena of interference. Polarized light and double refraction were satisfactorily investigated by him. Fresnel likewise made important contributions toward the construction of scientific lenses for lighthouse beacons.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 26—Park row as a journalistic haven is mostly memory. Reporters, novelists and short story tellers still try to think of it with romance, but it is in reality only a wraith. As a street it curls northward from Chatham square. As the Fourth Estate tribunal it is dead

The Pulitzer building with its gilded dome valiantly and alone holds the fort to recall vivid days agone—days when Cobb was the salaried reporter at $125 a week, when O. McKinley wrote unsigned stories that convulsed the town for the Sun, when "scoops" meant something.

Park or Newspaper row became the site of newspaper homes before days of the telephone and was so selected because of proximity to big news centers, such as city hall, the Whitehall street liner piers, police headquarters and the criminal courts building.

With telephones the disintegration set in. The Sun moved further up Broadway, the American occupies a huge strip along the South street water front. The Tribune made a jump northward into the Forties. Others reared giant skyscrapers in mid-town

Doc Perry's drug store, awash with traffic then, is still on Park row but there is no "little back room." The patronage today is more suburban instead of journalistic. Folks come from those towns with the wild Jersey names for malted milks whither once came star reporters for eye-openers.

The picturesque saloons on Park row along with those under the bleak shed of Brooklyn bridge or on those cobbled streets sliding down to the East river are now quick lunch German kitchens and oyster bars. Many are open all nights for workers of the World

Thus Park row, the goal of every scribbler from out yonder, has become second rate. It is lined with shoddy shops—up stairs shoe parlors, down stairs pool halls, melodrama movies, passport photogalleries and "relieve" cellars.

A favored haunt of mine in Park row days was "Ham and" Dolan's. Here for fifteen cents—plus a nickle tip—one could feast on a hefty slice of boiled ham flanked with beans, three slices of bread and a cup of coffee. Pie or ice-cream were five cents extra. One of many whose names became of great luster were Richard Harding Davis, Albert Payson Terhune, Winfied Sheehan and William Johnstone.

On Saturday pay days impecunious pamphleteers lunched at Hahn's, where cocktails were twenty cents a throw. Golf was known remotely as a game where one hit a ball and walked after it. The newspaperman's sport was bottle pool.

Lou Holz is another Broadway comedian to produce and appear in his own show. He was singing in a San Francisco roadhouse when Elsie Janis heard and encouraged him to come to New York. She prophesied success Holz has fulfilled her prophecy with a bang.

Broadway lights once burned only for the stage stars. Today a half dozen stage names glitter. The rest twinkle for tooth paste, cigarets, coffee, fountain pens and the movies. Or were you worried?

Yet in the decay of Broadway's artistic grandeur ferments a touch of the old order, the incorruptible egoism of exploiting oneself. Hard by the Metropolitan a Sicilian bootblack stand heralds: "Giavonni, Premier Shiner De Luxe."

The boot-black in many barber shops in the metropolis is the "stool pigeon" for the boss. He tips off irregularities among the barbers and reports any unusual vivaciousness of manicure girls toward customers. Many also act as agents for handbooks and often have greater incomes than proprietors.

He is one of those old fruits, English adenoid, who, following several introductions now nods woodenly in passing. Having relaxed that much, I decided, seeing him this morning to meet him more than half way with a little American cheerio, toodle-oo and pip. And the way he thawed out has me worried. I'm afraid he'll be popping in for tea

Better Skip Some.

Eight Philadelphia policemen are going to school in New York to learn police methods over there. But not all of them, it is to be hoped.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Feb 26—Four men who once presided over the two houses of congress—two over the house of representatives, two over the senate—are alive today.

Of the two former presidents of the senate Charles G. Dawes is now American ambassador to Great Britain. The other, Calvin Coolidge, is living quietly at "The Beeches" in Northampton.

Of the two former speakers of the house Frederick H. Gillett is preparing to quit public life and retire from the United States senate next month. The other, Joseph W. Keifer now ninety-five years old, lives in Springfield, Ohio.

A colorful member of this quartet is the snowy-haired, snowy-bearded General Keifer. Though he left his seat in the house some twenty-one years ago, after serving in seven congresses, the memory of this "Grand Old Man of Ohio" lingers on the hill.

His ninety-fifth birthday rolled around this January 30. And despite the fact that the house was working at top speed, it paused long enough to honor his memory and instruct the present speaker to send him congratulations.

The "General"—for so he was called by every one on the hill—served fourteen years in congress as a representative from Ohio. He was speaker during the forty-seventh session from 1881 to 1883.

There still are a few members of the house who remember this Civil war soldier when he sat alongside them. For it was as the soldier that he was best known.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he enlisted as a private in the union army, was advanced from grade to grade until, in 1864, he was made a brigadier general. The following year, after being wounded four times in battle, he was promoted to the rank of major-general.

Then followed four terms in congress, one of which he served as speaker. He was defeated when he offered for a fifth term. But twenty years later he came back to Washington to serve three terms more in the house.

Although he was sixty-two when the Spanish-American war broke out, he was again commissioned a major-general. It was always a source of great pride to him that in this war he fought shoulder to shoulder with General Joe Wheeler and General Fitzhugh Lee, those great leaders of the confederacy.

There is another incident in his life which touched him deeply. It occurred when he was in Washington as a member of congress

During the Civil war his command had been stationed for a long while in the little town of Winchester, Virginia, a short distance below Washington. As a union officer he engaged in many of the bloody battles in that section. But he so conducted himself that he won the hearts of the citizens of Winchester.

These people sent him an invitation when he was in congress to visit them again that they might show their appreciation. He went, and the reception accorded him always has remained one of his cherished memories.

FAVOR DELAY ON TAX CODE

Governor and Legislators Plan Holding Tax Program as Final Job.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26—Leaders of the Ohio legislature and Governor George White are understood in favor of deferring action on the new taxation code until general work of the session has been concluded, thereby leaving the assembly in position to concentrate on the taxation problem alone.

Those holding in this view are senate president and minority leaders Earl Bruce and D. H. De Armond; house majority and minority leaders Chester J. Abele and J. Freer Emerson; Speaker Arthur Hamilton; senator Robert A. Taft, Republican of Cincinnati, chairman of the special joint legislature committee delegated to draft new tax laws; and Representative Lincoln L. Vail, Republican of Cincinnati, chairman of the house ways and means committee.

That such a plan eventually will be followed is generally believed. The fact that the special joint committee will not be able to present its recommendations for several weeks yet virtually makes consideration of such a plan a necessity. Leaders anticipate that the committee will have finished its work of business about the middle of March and they do not expect the joint committee to report before that time.

Democrats expressed the belief that very little can be done toward working out general tax laws until the reappraisal of real estate soon to start has progressed sufficiently to ascertain what the percentage of shrinkage in the duplicate will be. It generally is anticipated, they said, that the shrinkage will amount to 25 per cent.

now junk, and idle, waiting to be torn out. You see smelters that would have delighted Cotton Mather, enabling him to make descriptions of hell more vivid. Torrents of burning oil pour into the furnace through five pipes, producing a heat of almost 4,000 degrees, separating the copper from iron, sulphur, etc., in the ore. The iron floats on top of the molten mass and with other materials mass than copper is drawn off as fat is skimmed from a soup pot, forming slag. That slag would make the best road material, brick, or stone mixture for cement, but is wasted. Transportation costs too much.

HOW MUCH DOES it cost to produce copper? That question can never be answered definitely in America or in the African copper fields. It depends on the quality of your machinery. Mr. Weed has just installed, for Cananea, machinery that cuts down the necessary man power exactly one-half. That is the story everywhere, and civilization must adjust itself to it. Millions of pounds of molten copper are poured in and out of great metal pots handled in 500-pound brisks intensely hot, and six men do all the work. That would surprise the old Cretans that hammered their copper for water pipes out of the ore by hand.

If you want exercise walk through a few miles of underground tunnels in a big copper mine for two or three hours. And to know what real work is, see the miners, "contractors," on their own hook, paid per ton digging and blasting.

An ordinary strong man could not sustain for 15 minutes the effort made by these men, hour after hour. Their labor is the best paid of any in Mexico, and they are happy with work that would seem torture to the soft, average man. Of 1,000 men now in the mine, 900 are Mexican, and they do all the hardest work, unless you call thinking hard work.

Radio equipment is included with a new outdoor signboard, automatic controls switching broadcasts on and off at set times.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to Henney & Cooper or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

N. Y. WORLD OFFER IS CANCELED BY BLOCK

Withdraws Proposal To Buy Papers in Deference to Competitor.

He did want in good faith to purchase the three papers but he does not want in any sense to interfere with a contract already concluded.

Employes of the World numbering 2,867 were themselves making news today in a militant resolve that the three Worlds should not come to an end and that the will of Joseph Pulitzer dictating their perpetuity should be respected.

In an enthusiastic meeting at the Hotel Astor last night, the employes formed an organization, to be known tentatively as the World Employes Cooperative association. James W. Barrett, city editor of the World was elected president. A resolution appealing for public support of their efforts was adopted and pledges totalling nearly $675,000 were announced.

Receiving a tremendous ovation, Barrett called the project "the most spontaneous outburst in the history of American journalism."

"We are now at the Marne," he said "and our objective is to preserve the World."

Herbert, Joseph Jr., and Ralph Pulitzer are seeking to sell the papers founded by their father on the grounds that they have lost $3,000,000 in five years and cannot continue publication longer than 90 days.

them. insidiously consume more and more of the savings and the labor of our people."

"In aggregate they threaten burdens beyond the ability of our country normally to pay; and, of far higher importance, each of them breaks the barriers of self reliance and self support in our people," he added.

Prompt Action Planned

Congress set itself for quick action on President Hoover's veto. Speaker Longworth determined to give consideration of the veto right-of way over other pending matters so the house could register without loss of time its determination to pass the legislation regardless.

If the expected overwhelming majority develops, the bill will be sent directly to the senate, which in turn must line up two-thirds of its membership to override the President's will.

House consideration was slated first as the bill, permitting veterans to borrow up to 50 per cent of the face value of their compensation certificates, originated there.

Predict Veto Defeat

Both senate and house proponents of the legislation were confident a crushing defeat would be handed the administration. The house passed the bill, estimated to cost the government $750,000,000 or more a week ago, by 363 to 39. The senate brushed administration opposition aside with a vote of 72 to 12 a few days later.

Although a few votes may be gained by the administration as a result of the veto message, proponents were confident this swing would not affect the outcome.

The $.400,000 certificates held by the World war veterans have a maturity value in 1945 of $3,423,000,000, averaging about $1,000 each. The bill will permit them to borrow half this or about $500 each, at the lower rate of interest of four and one-half per cent, less the $325,000,000 already borrowed. At present veterans may borrow 22½ per cent at interest of two per cent above the federal reserve rediscount rate.

Loan Finance Plan

Under the bill the loans are to be financed by the $772,000,000 in the sinking fund set aside to retire the certificates, and from the $50,000,000 government life insurance fund. The veterans' administration will handle the loans. Should additional funds be needed the measure provides appropriations from the treasury.

Throughout the administration has resisted efforts for congressional action on this and similar veterans aid proposals.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin clogged and sallow. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, omitting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Insist on substitutes.

G. O. P. Independents to Sidestep Caucus

Group To Stay Away from Meeting Called Tonight To Select Candidates for Next Congress Officers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—Ranks thinned by the purposeful absence of independent minded members, house Republicans will caucus tonight to select candidates for offices in the next congress.

The independents, mostly from the western states, want a free hand next December and are unwilling to commit themselves now to the present Republican leadership and are determined to gain greater recognition for their group.

Among the regulars as meeting time approached there was no sign of opposition to Nicholas Longworth of Ohio for renomination as speaker. He has held the chair for six years now. The other officers, John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, floor leader, William Tyler Page, clerk, Joseph G. Rodgers, sergeant-at-arms, also appeared assured of renomination.

Independents have not entirely rebelled against this leadership but the significance of their abstentations law in close margin between the Republicans and Democrats in the next house. In a block that dozen or 15 votes could elect either slate or force a compromise on the ticket or in committee actions. They have given no sign however of wishing to join the Democrats.

Recent weeks have seen Speaker Longworth in a conciliatory attitude toward restive groups. Only yesterday he obtained reopening of the oil embargo question after the ways and means committee had shelved for the session legislation sought urgently by petroleum state representatives. The day before he took the floor to aid in passage of the lame duck resolution much desired by westerners.

Among those who have announced they will stay away are Representatives Laguardia of New York, Mead and Christgau of Minnesota and Schneider of Wisconsin.

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 26. Taking of testimony was to begin today in the murder trial of Mrs. Myrtle A. Bennett, 35, accused of shooting her husband John G. Bennett, following an argument over a bridge game.

The jury, including 10 married and two unmarried men, was chosen last night.

James R. Page prosecuting attorney, announced he would ask life imprisonment for Mrs. Bennett accused of shooting her husband, wealthy representative of a perfume company in a quarrel which broke up a bridge game in their apartment Sept. 29, 1929. He waived a demand for the death penalty the first day of the trial.

Mrs. Bennett, reserved and quietly dressed, wept yesterday as she sat with her counsel, headed by James A. Reed former United States senator, listening to the questioning of prospective jurors.

Kentucky College Faculty Members Fined on Minor Counts.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 26. Original charges against two members of the faculty of Western Kentucky Teachers' college, Bowling Green, had been changed today. Instead of convictions on charges of violating the dry laws, the men were fined three dollars each on minor offense charges.

Dr. H. H. Cherry, 60, president of the college, was fined for a traffic violation when the original charge was driving while intoxicated. Professor W. M. Pearce was fined for breach of the peace after he had been charged with being intoxicated in a public place.

Neither defendant appeared in court. An attorney pleaded guilty for them and paid their fines.

Police had possession of a bottle of prescription whisky, found in the automobile after the arrests. Authorities said it would be returned to Pearce of he chose to call for it.

TABLE RESOLUTION

House Committee Delays Action on Dry Convention Proposal.

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26—Action on the Corlett resolution to petition congress for a constitutional convention on the prohibition question has been delayed by the house federal relations committee until next week when an identical resolution in the senate also is to be taken up again.

The senate joint resolution introduced by Senator L. L. Marshall (R), of Cleveland, also asks that Ohio join with other states in petitioning for a convention in which representatives of the people might determine whether the eighteenth amendment should be retained in its present form.

All Pile Agony Ended Without Cutting or Salves

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription—HEM-ROID to end itching, bleeding, protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. Henney & Cooper says HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.—Adv.

THE CRIME IN THE DUTCH GARDEN

BY HERBERT ADAMS

(Copyright, 1930, J. B. Lippincott Co.)

CHAPTER 26

Evelyn Is Amazed

E waited eagerly for Rich- to speak, although, hav- ed the change in his ex- during the short phone tion, he was prepared for ing news.

died this morning," the ident said in a low voice. rallied at all and made ment."

gain there was silence in tendndt's office. Rich- to his feet, and cross- ing to the window gazed moodily outside

"This is a serious thing for me Mr Haswell" and he turned back to the desk "Your view is that the person or persons who killed the old lady planned this second crime to cover what they had done

"Whoever is responsible for Green's death must have been at Merrow Crag on the night he was found, for they put the confession by his side after he lost consciousness. You were there Mr Haswell —who was with you?"

"There was a quiet party I imagine Ben Acres and the maids were on duty Marjorie, Evelyn and Vincent were there Lionel Duckworth came, and Captain Stirling Also Major Gresham, Dr. Netherton, and Donald Wade and his wife—making 10 in all"

"Then" said Richmond, "in addition to yourself and the Wades, you had every one there who was also present when Miss Querdling was murdered Gresham, Netherton Duckworth, Stirling, Vincent and the girls With the exception of Green himself, all those suspected of the first crime were on the spot for the second I cannot see that the letter you have just read me from Marjorie makes much difference Is it not possible that she and Stirling killed the old lady and then planned to throw the blame on Green" They had everything in the way of motive and she admits that it was his confession that made things easy for them"

"It is possible," said Jimmie, "but you must remember she need not have written at all. I think her letter bears the impress of truth"

"Perhaps it does It may clear herself and the doctor but not Stirling We know that he was in the garden He lied about the car May he not have lied to her?

"But if the story were untrue why should he let her tell it to us?"

"How are we to prove anything? What happened that night? You were there—was there not something between 9.30 and 11.30 that throws light on it?"

There was a new note of appeal in his voice and Jimmie answered it with such detail as he could

"That evening 10 of us were present We made up two bridge tables and Evelyn and Lionel went into the next room to sing We could not see them but we heard singing all the time The first to leave was Netherton at about 10 Soon after Stirling went

"So that either of them could have gone to the garage" put in Richmond quickly

"Undoubtedly. Vincent wandered into the garden once or twice, so he might have turned that way Gresham also left us for a short time He said it was to look at his car"

"Just another string of possibles and nothing definite, commented Richmond dejectedly. I shall have to report what you say to the chief and shall probably be told that a younger man is waiting to step into my shoes"

Jimmie tried to cheer him up "But don't tell the chief yet To-night may clear up the whole business and you will distinguish yourself"

Tonight" Richmond almost gasped the word "How so?"

"Meet me in the Dutch garden at 10 tonight—not a moment before and I will explain Meanwhile don't tell any one what I've said about Green's death"

"But you mean you will be able to tell me who killed both of them?" There was more incredulity than hope in the question.

"I believe so—if you will do as I wish"

"But why not tell me now What is the use of waiting?"

"I have a reason

"But people can clear out between this and 10 tonight"

"We must risk that"

When Jimmie left Richmond he sped on to Bradford to buy some parting gifts for his host and hostess Fortunately he met Audrey, who assisted him in securing something for Nancy, after he had bought pipes and tobacco for Donold Gratefully he received her wise selection and deposited it in his car

"How are things with you?" he asked "Has Bill come to his senses?"

"I'm all right but I haven't seen Bill lately" She spoke lightly, but Jimmie could see into her troubled feelings

"Never mind," he said "Bill will get the news for which he is waiting"

"Do you mean that?"

As she spoke she pointed to a newsboy with a placard reading, "Death of Edward Green"

"No The news I think he is awaiting is that Marjorie Blake is married to Captain Stirling"

He told her of the letter he had that day received, though he did not reveal all that it contained

"It will be the best answer to those who coupled her name with Bill's Will you see him now?"

Perhaps, but—it is his turn to say isn't it?"

"Yes," agreed Jimmie "It is, I suppose"

He did not at once return to Fairways with his precious cargo, but drove first to Merrow Crag, where he asked for Evelyn and was shown into the usual room

In a few moments the girl joined him. She seemed happy

"You have heard the great news?" he asked

"The great news? You do not mean about poor Green?"

"No. You have heard that?"

"Yes I telephoned the hospital and they told me. It is very sad"

"I was referring to your sister"

"Oh" Her face flushed and then broke into a radiant smile "I did not imagine you had heard' It is wonderful, isn't it?"

"Did it come as a surprise?"

"Well, it did, rather She went off, telling me she was going to London for two days Now she writes that she thought it best to marry quietly"

"Did you know how fond she and Stirling were of each other?"

"I guessed," said Evelyn after a moment's hesitation. "Marjorie and I did not share our confidences as some sisters do I'm glad she is to be happy"

"I hope she will be," said Jimmie "But I came to see you about a very important discovery Is your brother Vincent still here?"

"Yes" There was a startled look in her eyes.

"Then I must ask you not to tell him, or any one else what I am going to say. Green did not kill your aunt and Green did not commit suicide" Jimmie spoke slowly but very emphatically "The confession was a forgery"

She looked at him with horror "Why do you say so? How do you know?"

"The police took the glass from which he drank I took the bottle I have just found there was poison in the bottle—put there for Green The confession was placed by his side after he had taken it So the whole inquiry reopens We have still to find who killed Miss Querdling"

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Resents the Allusion to Phil Veritzen's "Love for Her"

I SPRANG to my feet terse with anger conscious that my face was flaming at Lillian's cool comment upon my doubt of Philip Veritzen's interest in the first two acts of the play I had written

"You mean he may be biased because he is in love with you" she had queried But he isn't any more

She was watching me narrowly, and before I could speak, she flung out her hand and forestalled me

Don't say it she said Of course you're terribly angry and could grind me into sausage meat with gusto also eclat But I can outtalk you and I'm going to, until you calm down You're too much of a lady also you love me to well to walk out on me as you're tempted to do oh yes, I've caught your side glances toward the door, but you're not going through it not just yet

She paused literally for breath, but I did not speak, although I remained standing feeling curiously like a stubborn schoolboy being catechized

"I meant to make you angry" she said But first let me make something clear Never from your first meeting with old Phil, when he fell for you worse than any ton of bricks ever mentioned in song or story simile have I ever intimated or thought that you had the slightest what it is you like Victorianly to call it oh yes—to mantle interest in him"

Thank you" I said venomously You should add for the spinach" or something equally edible," she retorted imperturbably I'm speaking the truth however, and you know it as well as you do the fact that for a year or two Phil Veritzen wasn't quite sure whether his old dome was above his shoulders or attached to his heels by a ball and chain He sure was nutties about you than I've ever seen him about anybody and I've known old Phil for many hectic years

Veritzen's Genius

"But" she went on emphatically "because I know him so well I also know this about him Never in all his life, has he set the seal of his artistic approval upon anybody or any piece of work which did not have somewhere within him, her or it, the divine spark which he is reported and justly to be a wizard at discovering That standard is his ideal, his altar flame which he tends as zealously as any vestal of old He would no more swerve from it because of his infatuation for any woman, than he would dive from the roof of his theater for the same reason And you know you cannot imagine Philip Veritzen dying for love and the worms eating him which incidentally, I believe it not to be done by any man

I sat down abruptly it simply is not possible for me to remain angry with Lillian for many minutes, and she smiled engagingly at me

"You know I'm doing this for your own good," she smirked with so perfect an imitation of a smug mother correcting a child that I reluctantly grinned

"That's better she said You'll be able to listen to reason now"

I raised my eyebrows, trying to express definite incredulity, but produced no effect whatever upon my tormentor friend

The Romantic Veil

"So there is no possible reason for you to doubt Phil's genuine good faith in the matter of your play Now it's all right to be mad at me but for the love of John Smith Pocahontas come out of those bushes and look the world in the face You know what Phil Veritzen's accolade of a play means And in order to remove even the shadow of embarrassment from you I'm telling you what you ought to be very glad to know, that he isn't in love with you any more"

She looked over at me patently deciding that she had broken down my defenses and that I was safe to venture a test

"Of course I know that's an awful shock to give a perfect lady" she said icily and I stiffened wrathfully

Remember your favorite character I warned

"The immortal Egbert, who can be pushed just so far'" she supplemented "All right I'll try to sprinkle some salt on me, but nevertheless and notwithstanding It will be better for you you'll feel more at ease with him when you see him again if you realize that admiration for your ability to carve out a play is your strongest attraction for him now"

I was furious at myself for flushing but this calm dissection of something the knowledge of which I always had kept pushed away from me as far as possible seemed crass and was humiliating

"When this operation's over the patient will not only be living but doing nicely" Lillian said with eyes sedulously averted from my flaming face

"Phil's an old fish she went on after a little pause He gets a certain concept of a woman, and proceeds to idealize her and idolize her with that particular image in view Then when that idea of her is changed in any way the romantic veil which he has wrapped around her is torn away and though he may be pleased with what he sees beneath he is no longer in love with that particular lady"

Not for the hunt itself would I have had her guess my quickened curiosity at her words, but I could not hide from myself that I was tensely asking a mental question.

What was it that had made Philip Veritzen change his feelings toward me"

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

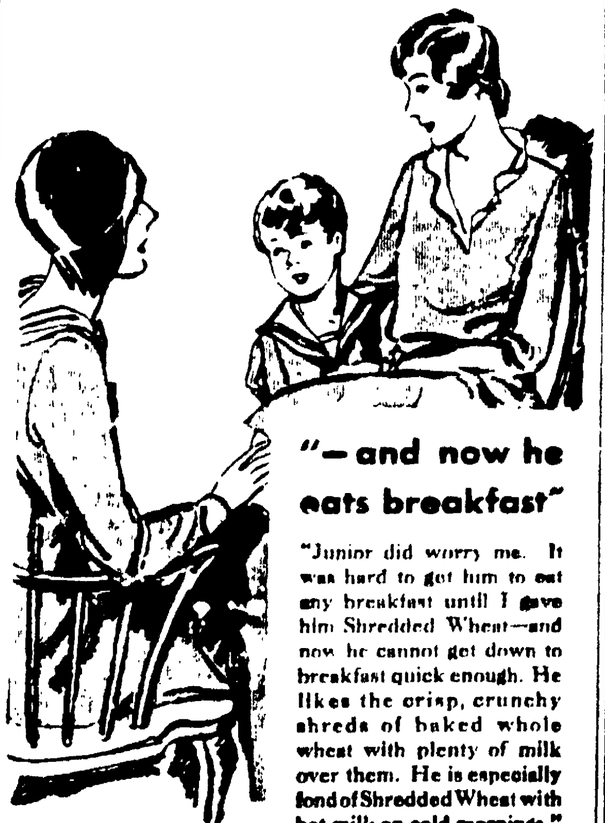
BY JUDD M. LEWIS

TOMORROW is going to be Friday if nothing happens, and then the next day is Saturday, and that will be the last day of this month and if March is going to come in like a lion it better begin to switch its tail and practice a few growls

I let Jubilee down by his rope when I had tolled him up in the cover and flang him out of bed, and then I mingled with my pants and everything and went down and got the pail and went out to the barn, and most of the bunch was there, and they all said we could go swimming pretty soon, and Hopper said the frost wasn't out of the ground yet and they all said he was crazy, so he went outside and jabbed the ground with his crutch and we all stood in the door and watched him, and the ground was as hard as a rock, and then he got the axe and chopped at the ground, and when he chopped out a chunk of it we could see little white specks of ice It certainly made me glad that I am not a angelworm.

Younies said that it wouldn't be long till the frost was out and then we could go out in the woods and find us some violets and dogwood flowers and have a picnic I said I liked dogwood flowers and picnics but I was beginning to feel like a frog that was born out west. I said it didn't rain and it didn't rain so that the frog was five years old before it learnt to swim. Red said he thought I was a liar. Then Feeble said, "That sounds to me like a dirty crack. Just what do you mean?" I said, "I mean if a lot of girls are following a fella around like they did last summer, when will he get a chance to swim?" She said, "You nasty little reptill why don't you wear bathing suits." I didn't know what reptill meant so I couldn't say anything. Then when I looked at Younies I was sorry I said what I did. She looked like I had slapped her. So when I went in the house and the girls went in I asted my father if he would get me a swimming suit, and he wanted to know what for, and I said so I could go in swimming when the girls were around. He said I could save him that expense by not going in while the girls were around. But I whispered to Younies and told her I would get one anyhow, and we walked to school together.

Mush had a long new board leaning against the school he was going to do something with and we put it across the corner of the yard on the logs of the fences and were performing on it when a big boy from the other room went to show off before the big girls and he put one hand on the board and jumped up and set on it, and it broke and he came down and bring his sitter so hard on the



"—and now he eats breakfast"

"Junior did worry me. It was hard to get him to eat any breakfast until I gave him Shredded Wheat—and now he cannot get down to breakfast quick enough. He likes the crisp, crunchy shreds of baked whole wheat with plenty of milk over them. He is especially fond of Shredded Wheat with hot milk on cold mornings."
